NAVAL CONFERENCE OPENS WITH ADDRESS OF WELCOME
BY THE KING OF ENGLAND

ROYAL GALLERY OF THE PALACE OF WESTMINSTER IS THE SCENE OF GATHERING OF DISTINGUISHED REPRESENT.
ATIVES OF FIVE GREAT NAVAL POWERS.

Associated Press Staff Writer

London, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Sounding a call in words heard round the world, the five great naval powers consecrated themselves anew to peace today at the opening session of their long-awaited conference on the further limitations of armaments on the sea.

Their first meeting was opened formally with impressive dignity in the royal gallery of the palace of Westminster by King George who bespoke success in ending competition in building ships of war. The nations each in turn declared in eloquent phrases their readiness for common sacrifice in the common interest.

No diplomatic bombshell disturbed the solemn quietude of the session for every national pronouncement was couched in general terms and in a tone of utmost harmony.

When the formal opening addresses, which were broadcast by a worldwide hookup, had been completed the conference adjourned to reconvene Thursday morning at ten o'clock in St. James's Palace. Tomorrow the delegates will spend in informal discussion to clear the way for Thursday's meeting which will be a private one.

SEVEN MILE ICE GORGE IN INDIANA

THREATENS TO DAM UP THE FLOOD WATERS AT RIV-
ERTON, VINCENTS

"I believe that you to whom your governments have entrusted the high mission of continuing the task begun at Washington," said King George, "are animated with single minded intentions of working not with any selfish and exclusively nationalistic purpose but with noble inspiration and the resolve to remove once for all this particular obstacle from the path of ordered and civilized progress."

Vincennes, Ind., Jan. 21.—(AP)—An ice gorge that extends for seven miles along the Wabash river near Riverton, north of here, was holding fast today, threatening to dam up flood waters which are still coming down from the upper reaches of the stream.

had sounded the note of naval limitation and the removal of "the evil results of wasteful competition in naval armaments," and had departed from the resplendent conference chamber in the palace of Westminster. The spokesmen of Great Britain, France, the United States, Italy, Japan and all the British dominions joined in a chorus of hopeful predictions. How far these prophecies may be fulfilled only the more informal later sessions can tell, but at least a harmonious beginning had been accomplished.

Washington before taking steps to dynamite the ice pack. Plans to drop bombs on the jam from airplanes have been abandoned. Government engineers here were informed that no planes near at hand were equipped with the necessary bombs.

Reports that the stream was passing both above and below the ice jam led to the belief that there might be no serious consequences.

Following issuance of a plea yesterday by John Barton Payne, national director of the Red Cross, that all chapters make urgent appeals for contributions for flood refugees at once, Governor Harry C. Leslie at Indianapolis, issued an appeal asking Hoosiers to contribute generously and promptly.

MacDonald and Stimson

Raymy MacDonald, Great Britain's Labor Prime Minister, long the advocate of peace and one of the moving spirits in the creation of the conference, spoke in eloquent phrase of the British Empire's desire for amity of the sea.

Then followed Henry I. Stimson, American secretary of State, and trusted envoy of President Hoover in his crusade for ending naval competition; Andread Tartile, brilliant head of the French cabinet; Foreign Minister Dino Grandi who sits at the right hand of Premier Mussolini; and Reijiro Wakatsuki, one of the outstanding figures of the Japanese Empire.

Their addresses were almost para-

More than 600 families in southwestern Indiana are in need of assistance because of floods and cold. It was estimated that more than 100,000 acres of land are under water in Indiana and Illinois with 7,000 in Indiana.

Efforts were continued to carry supplies to persons in the southernmost part of Knox county who have been isolated for several days. Reports have been received of sickness and hunger existing in the vicinity of Orrville and the Claywood Hills district.

Blytheville, Ark., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Removal of scores of families who have refused to leave their homes in the face of rising waters presented a problem to relief workers in the Big Lake flood section of Mississippi county today.

With water creeping near or into their homes and a heavy crush of floodwater approaching from a break in the St. Francis river levee near Holcomb, Mo., Red Cross relief workers estimated that 150 families are refusing to leave the dangerous area.

Six large flat-bottom boats were being built today and will be ready for use tomorrow in bringing out the refugees. They can make but one trip a day, but each has a capacity of twenty persons.

Approximately 50,000 acres in Mississippi county were under water today as a result in the break in the Big Lake levee.

"The whole world, it may be said with almost literal accuracy is turning its eyes upon us today," premier MacDonald said. "It expects that we shall deliberate and negotiate on the assumption that having put our names of peace we mean to respect our signatures. It prays that we shall not only relieve it of burdens but establish it still more securely in the ways of peace.

KING GEORGE IN WELCOME TO DELEGATES

APPEALS FOR REMOVAL OF OBSTACLES FROM PATH OF PROGRESS

LASTING BENEFITS

Asks Each Nation To Make Sacrifices As Contribution To The Good

London, Jan. 21.—Following the test of King George's address to the delegates of the naval disarmament conference.

"It is with sincere satisfaction that I am present here to welcome the delegates of the five principal naval powers assembled for the object of eliminating the evil results of a wasteful competition in naval armaments."

"I am proud of this navy's past achievements and inspiring traditions. It is not the fault of these traditions nor of our navy's competition in naval construction, due to the supposed necessities of policy, has led to a feeling of insecurity between nations and even to the risk of war."

"Since the great war all peoples are determined that human state shall leave nothing undone to prevent repetition of the grim and bloody tragedy. In the interests of mankind, we are seeking to build up one of its most important pillars, a permanent agreement between the maritime nations on the limitation of naval strength and reduction to a point consistent with national security."

"The practical application of the principle of the reduction of naval armaments has been the past progress of the Washington treaty of 1922. It is the duty of the nations to continue this work, and to make it a permanent basis for the construction of capital ships and aircraft carriers. But hitherto efforts to advance beyond that point have failed."

"I believe that you who represent the nations of the world are determined to continue the work begun at Washington are animated by a single-minded purpose to work with any selfish and exclusively nationalistic purpose but with noble inspiration and the high courage to remove one of the most important obstacles from the path of civilized mankind."

"All nations have varying needs demanding special consideration, but each is equally determined to make some sacrifice as a contribution to the common good. I feel sure that your noble and lasting benefit, not only to the countries which you represent but upon mankind generally."

"I earnestly trust that the results of this conference will be to limit the military activities of the world, to reduce the burden of armaments now weighing upon the people of the world and also by facilitating the future work of the league preparatory commission on disarmament and facilitating the time when a general disarmament conference can deal with this problem in an even more comprehensive manner. In this hope I shall follow your deliberations with closest interest and attention."

NAVAL CONFERENCE CLUB SELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The Isak Walton League of America, Kankakee chapter, held its regular meeting last evening at the club house, and new officers were elected. Above all, it was the demand from us an agreement to stop competition which recently has been to show itself both in the type and the number of ships. If we are not careful we shall be one more involved in feverish competition among nations. MILITANT AND DEFIANT. THEY WILL "CARRY ON" INVESTIGATION

Conduct Hearings

Minut People From All Sections Of Country Invited To Appear

By RICHARD L. TURNER Associated Press Staff Writer

Washington, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The militant and defiant "Bloc" of the United States today was conducting its own hearings on proposals for the modification of the prohibition law.

The leadership of the organization, an executive committee, will be established to take charge of the hearings. Prominent people from all sections of the country are to be invited to appear. Lathum says it will be prepared to make a "sweep" investigation of conditions among the executive committee, like the "BLOC" organization itself, will be entirely extra-official. It will not have the power of subpoena and will not be a part of the government. The witnesses' consent. The cases themselves will be voluntary and are to be asked to bear testimony.

While the plans of the "BLOC" were being formulated, representative Cannon, speaking on the floor of the House today, took up the challenge of Representative Storch of New York, with its proposal to amend the prohibition law.

Cannon's view was that such a restriction would place a severe handicap upon the industries making use of denatured alcohol. In addition, he held that the treasury had experimented with the denatured alcohol and had found that it was not as good as the regular alcohol, which they could be separated from the alcohol itself, once the fluid was distilled.

Bourbonnais EFFORT AT LIMITATION NOT FINAL

DECLARES SECRETARY OF STATE STIMSON AT THE NAVAL CONFERENCE

Americans Will Remain in London Until Problems Are Solved

London, Jan. 21.—(AP)—A declaration that the protest effort at naval limitation is not regarded as final was made here today by Henry L. Stimson, the American secretary of state, in his address at the opening of the naval conference in the local gallery of the House of Lords.

"Naval limitation is a continuous process," he said. "We regard disarmament as a goal to be reached by successive steps by frequent revision and improvement. A solution reached today, however perfect, may not respond to conditions at a later date."

The chairman of the American delegation added that he and his colleagues were ready to remain in London until the problems were solved. "Until the opportunities were exhausted and until the world was given an agreement that would carry it through on to the time when the nations could meet again in the same spirit to look over the situation."

Mrs. Minnie Prairie, who has been expected to attend the conference, is expected to be the time being.

Mrs. Ben Frazer returned from Chicago Sunday, having visited with her sister, Mrs. J. C. Frazer, who also attended the funeral of her sister, Rev. Sister Claire.

Mrs. Fred Legris Jr. called on friends and relatives at St. Mary's hospital Sunday afternoon.

Coast guardsmen said they saw the speed boat as it entered the mouth of the river, pursued it and commanded it to halt for search.

As the picket boat approached the pilot of the rum runner ran into the river bank and the craft banked shortly after its occupants fled. It was raised by the coast guardsmen and towed to a government ship.

MAJESTIC—“Darsell” starring Mr. George Arliss in his original role from the stage play. The supporting cast includes Mrs. Arliss, Doris Lloyd, David Torrence and many others.

Last night at the Majestic theatre, Warner Bros. presented George Arliss in “Darsell,” a masterpiece of the play of the same name in which Mr. Arliss starred four years. There is no doubt but that it will be at the head of the season’s film productions and even that it will make for such a film as “Darsell.”

Mr. Arliss, of course, is perfect. A role of this sort requiring subtle shading, personal charm and mental power is just a natural one for this great actor. His performance

AMERICAN LEGION TO ASSIST DURING TIME OF DISTRESS

It is a delight to the eye and the ear. Naturally his voice is splendid. He is well assisted by a most capable cast. Chief among the members are Florence Arliss, wife of the star; Joan Bennett, who is equated as a good one; David Torrence, an excellent “heavy”; and Doris Lloyd, charming and shy in the role of the girl.

The story deals with one of the most exciting periods of Darsell’s career—the time when he fought against all opposition to obtain the right to sail for England. Later he was arrested and sentenced to prison for the coup in acquiring acquittal of the case.

LUNA

“Married in Hollywood” is a real event in screen history. “Married in Hollywood” proved a delightful surprise to moviegoers and film fans at its local premiere yesterday at the Luna theatre.

This Viennese love song, with its capitalizing Oscar Straus and David Stampfer tunes, its gorgeous ensemble numbers, its colorful and diverting story, its portrayal of back-grounds ranging from a mythical Balkan Kingdom to Hollywood and its splendid cast is unquestionably one of the most entertaining offerings that has come to the speaking screen.

“Penetrative Lubricity” MEANS

1. Freedom from Friction.
2. A “Carry-Over” Film by Metal Penetration.

Penetrative Lubricity

To lubricate, an oil must decrease friction between metal surfaces. A motor oil does this by separating the metal surfaces, and theoretically keeping them separated under all operating conditions. It may amaze you to know that many oils frequently fail to do this.

Think how this “separation” of moving parts is accomplished. The oil forms a wall or “film” between opposing surfaces... and it is upon this film that the reputation of every oil must rest. The film is thin, of course, for it must ride in the tight crevices of bearings, cylinder walls, etc. But it must also be of extraordinary strength... it must cling tenaciously... or the pressure of your motor will squeeze and hurl it from the vital points that must be kept separated.

Penetrative Lubricity... The New Gauge of Motor Oil Merit

Penetrative lubricity is the outstanding characteristic of the new Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oils. This characteristic is the direct result of Germ-Processing.

You must know this story of Germ-Process.

Briefly, it is the patented result of 16 years’ experimentation by the British scientists, Wells and Southcombe. Back in 1901, when everything of fundamental importance was known about the refining of mineral oils... these two scientists foresaw that additional improvements must be made, in order to keep lubricants abreast of the future development of the “gasoline buggy.”

They knew that animal and vegetable oils were “oilier” than mineral oils could ever be, but were impractical for use in internal combustion motors which operated at high temperatures.

Finally the Germ-Essence, containing the “oily” property lacking in mineral oils, was isolated. And a method was devised for combining this essence with highly refined mineral oils.

Only Conoco Oils Are Germ-Processed... This Gives Them Penetrative Lubricity

Continental Oil Company now owns the exclusive right to Germ-Processing for North America. Only with these new oils can you secure a fracture-proof film which actually penetrates the metal surfaces of your motor! What does this mean? ... It means that the all-important film no longer may be hurled and squeezed from moving parts. The Germ-Essence carries the oil into every minute crevice... into the very metal itself. And there it clings—clings when the heat of high speeds seeks to scorch and drive it away... clings when bearings try to squeeze it out... clings, too, when you stop your motor. And this is most important... for the oils you are now using drain away as the motor stops, and require 5 to 15 minutes to resume their guard duty when you next tread on the starter. That’s why 40% to 60% of your motor wear occurs in those first minutes of operation.

Save your motor by the use of this new oil. Introduce it to Conoco Germ-Processed oils today at the sign of the Red Triangle.

CHAPTER VII

In a corner of the reception room, protected by a huge palm from the rest of the company, Violet and Wally found a small bench for just the two of them. Wally had no objection to their leaving the dining room because he could see the door leading to the kitchen. It had been a signal on his all-seeing, and he did not care to make it any harder for her than was necessary.

"Darling, what the matter?" he asked, when she had arranged her arms with a sigh.

"Oh, Wally, I just couldn't stand any more of your blarney. Every body is having such a good time, and I'm simply—miserable. Here I am, and I have seen you so often, and your uncle is leaving for Europe."

MELROSE PARK IS SCENE OF TURMOIL

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(P)—The federal government would like to know what's going on in suburban Melrose Park.

Two policemen and the wife of one of them have disappeared—perhaps kidnapped, perhaps murdered. The home of the village attorney has been bombed and the attorney, Guy C. Guerine, is said by relatives to have left the village for a sanitarium. Two policemen with shotguns stand at the home of Police Chief Arthur Leesburg against whom death threats have been made.

Thomas McBreen, chairman of the council police committee, has resigned his chairmanship; not, he said, because of any threats against himself but because of threats against other officials and because of the turmoil in the suburb. He announced it as his intention to quit the village board and "throw up the whole business."

The federal government took steps to get to the bottom of the trouble when United States District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson last night conferred with members of the Melrose Park village board and with the police chief.

TIMBER WOLVES AT BLUE ISLAND

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(P)—Timber wolves continue from time to time to color to the belief, held by some otherwise smart easterners, that Chicago is not yet entirely out of the backwoods.

Just yesterday, a pair of timber wolves were doing much damage on the outskirts of the Chicago suburb of Blue Island, gnawing a horse and a cow there. Three bold frontiersmen, Dan Caswell and William and Art Shroder, vow to slay the pesky varmints, and one of the beasts bit the snow yesterday. It weighed 80 pounds. The other retreated to the forest.

Heavy northland snows are held responsible for driving the wolves this way.

THREE AMERICAN SAILORS BURNED

San Diego, Cal., Jan. 21.—(P)—Three sailors were confined in hospital quarters today severely burned in an explosion believed to have been caused by an acetylene torch on board the U. S. S. Talbot.

The three men are D. D. Phillips, engine room second class; T. R. Mullin, seaman, second class, and A. Martinowitz, gunner's mate, third class. All were working below decks with a torch when the explosion occurred.

Phillips holding the nozzle of the torch, staggered out on the deck, his clothing burned from his back. He rushed to the rail and tossed the torch over the side, then turned and with his seared fingers shut off the valve of the acetylene flask, at the same time shouting to others to remove the flask to a place of safety.

Fumes from a nearby fuel oil tank were believed to have played a part in the explosion.

She was talking with another waitress. She spoke of the excitement, the thrill seeking that had been crammed into her short years. Then she took poison, ran to her room and bolted the door. When a doctor forced an entrance, she was dead.

TIDE OF EMPLOYMENT HAS TAKEN A CHANGE

Washington, Jan. 21.—(P)—President Hoover said today that the department of labor had reported for the first time since the stock market crash that the tide of employment had changed in the right direction.

The chief executive said reports for the last week showed that employment was on the increase and substantially so.

"There has been a distinct increase in employment all over the country within the last ten days," President Hoover asserted. "The tide of employment all over the country has changed in the right direction."

President Pays for Food

If food is bought by the President's wife simply for family support for herself and husband the cost of it is no concern of the United States of America and must be met by the President in his capacity as head of a private household. The President says World's Work, out of his own resources feeds himself and some twenty servants at all their private meals. If, however, the food is bought for an official entertainment, such as one of the four inescapable annual dinners, the cost is met through a voucher conveyed to the disbursing officer of the public moneys appropriated for "traveling expenses."
